

Human Factors Training program

Pilot: "Lydd Tower, Golf-Xray.. with you. FL600"

Lydd Tower: "Good Afternoon, Golf-Xray.., Roger, advise on re-entry."

Do humans make mistakes? In this case a simple misspoken word turned out to be funny however sometimes more serious consequences are the result of human errors.

This two day course is for everyone, air travel is considered one of the safest means of transportation in the world today, yet every now and again an accident shakes our world.

An in-depth review of the events after the fact will reveal, time and again, that a series of human errors was allowed to form until the accident occurred.

We want to raise awareness of human error and develop ways to prevent or reduce the occurrence and consequences of human error in aviation.
